

18 May 2010

MRWED named Asia Pacific's Best Workplace Trainer Training Program

Queensland's MRWED Training & Assessment has been awarded for having the Best Workplace Trainer Training Program in the Asia Pacific region by LearnX Asia Pacific 2010 E-Learning & Training Awards.

MRWED is Australia's largest provider of trainer training and has provided training to more than 13,000 people during the past decade.

It provides global trainer training courses that are used by CEOs and human resource managers through to frontline managers and leading hands on the art of engaging and training others.

MRWED Founder and CEO Marc Ratcliffe said it was an honour to be recognised as a leader in the industry.

He said the award came at a time when demand for MRWED's courses continued to climb.

"With the economic recovery, Australian businesses are increasingly realising the benefits of properly upskilling their trainers. Skilled trainers can teach, enthuse and empower whole workforces to work more efficiently and more successfully," he said.

"Our focus has been on creating certificate, diploma, and custom courses which are not only relevant for people who deliver training, but also flexible and engaging. Some of our courses are delivered face-to-face, while others are done online or through correspondence."

In 2009, MRWED Founder and Principal Marc Ratcliffe was named as one of the world's Top 10 Young Trainers of the Year by Training Magazine (USA). MRWED was also named as one of the Top 10 places to work in Australia by BRW magazine and was awarded a 2009 Australian Business Award for Enterprise.

MRWED Training and Assessment is a private Australian Registered Training Organisation (RTO). Its courses have trained people from CEOs and human resource managers through to frontline managers on the art of engaging audiences and effective training and facilitation. It has trained more than 13,000 Australians in training and assessor qualifications since it was established in the year 2000.

ENDS. For more information contact:

Matthew Hart / Liz Christiansen, BBS, 07 3221 6711